Oregon Sea Grant brings back Shop on the Dock program

NEWPORT, Ore. – Shop on the Dock, Oregon Sea Grant’s consumer seafood education and shopping program, returns to the Newport commercial fishing docks in August with more dates, times and opportunities to buy fresh seafood from the fishermen who catch it.

The program, now in its third summer in partnership with the Port of Newport, is an opportunity for coastal visitors and residents to learn what seafood is in season on the Oregon Coast, meet the people who catch the fish and learn how to tell when the seafood they buy is of high quality.

Oregon Sea Grant staff lead the tours, describe the fisheries and help those who want to navigate the process.

Tours leave from the boardwalk by Port Dock 5 on the Newport Bayfront, across from Local Ocean Seafood, and run about 90 minutes. Remaining dates are Aug. 5, 12 and 19, with tours departing at 9:30 a.m., 10 a.m., 10:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. each day. The tours are free and on a first-come, first-served basis.

Those who plan to buy should bring cash and a cooler with ice. Comfortable shoes with good traction are a must as the tours cover some distance on working commercial fishing docks.

Newport-based Kaety Jacobson, a Sea Grant fisheries specialist with the Oregon State University Extension Service, compares the tours to “going down to the docks with a friend who knows the seafood – and knows the fishermen.”

Jacobson, who runs the program, recommends that tour-goers arrive early to find parking. Parking also is available at the Maritime Museum, across the street and up the hill from the docks, with purchase of admission. The museum opens at 11 a.m., but Shop the Dock staff can assist with admission purchases before then.
